Samuel appears to have removed with his putative father to Orange County, N. Y., prior to the breaking out of the Revolutionary War, for it is a matter of record that he was living, with his father, in Goshen Precinct, in that county in 1775, when he was a private in Capt. Phenias Rumsey's company, and signed the Association to support Congress.* On the 19th of September, 1775, he and others, then members of a Goshen company, signed a petition to revoke the commissions of the Captain and Lieutenant of the company to which they then belonged, on the ground, as stated, that their election had been procured by fraud and deceit.† Later he appears as a private in Capt. Marvin's company in Col. Drake's regiment, and the muster roll of this company, still extant, dated 26th of November, 1776, shows that on the 27th of August, preceding, he was reported absent from his company,‡ though the reason therefor is not stated. This muster roll is the last record in which the name of Samuel appears, and it is not to be found in the records of any State so far as I have been able to discover. That he was employed in a powder mill, in Maryland, during the greater part of the War, is absolutely certain. His granddaughter, Mrs. Lucinda Rose, when a girl, lived in the family of her grandparents and has frequently listened to thrilling tales of his experience in the mill, as related by her grandmother after the death of Samuel himself. It was during the War, probably about 1778, that he married his first wife. She died after the birth of her second child, probably about 1782, or 1783, and on Samuel's return home, immediately after the close of the War, he married in Brooklyn, about 1786, his second wife, Ruth Stratton. He remained in Brooklyn, in all probability, for a number of years, for several of his children were born there. From Brooklyn he returned to Orange County, thence to Beaver, Pa., then to Springfield, O., and finally located in Ellsworth Tp., Mahoning County, O. Here in the primeval solitude he cleared a farm, erected buildings, including a substantial house, and brought up his large family of children. He died about 1827; his wife about 1848.

Israel probably removed with his parents from Orange County, N. Y., to Northumberland County, Pa., shortly before the breaking out of the Revolutionary War and resided there until about 1790, when he removed to New York State. He served as a soldier in the Revolution and appears, 13th of March, 1776, as an ensign in the 7th Battalion, Northumberland County Associators, Col. James Potter.* We also find that "Israel Parshall made an application for pension on January 14th, 1833, at which time he was 73 years of age, and resided at Palmyra, N. Y. In his application he alleged that he first enlisted at Loyal Lock, Penna., and served as a private, corporal and sergeant in companies commanded by Captains Newman, Hammond, Hepburn and Westfall, and in regiments commanded by Colonels Martin and Hartley. Length of service not stated. There is an affidavit on file in his claim showing that a brother, David Parshall, served with him."† He appears on the Tax Lists as a resident of Muncy Tp., Northumberland County, Pa., from 1783 to 1787.‡ It is inferred that at this time he was married, from the fact that his brother David is uniformly referred to in contemporaneous records as a "single man." It was probably about 1790 when he finally removed to Palmyra, N. Y., locating there on a farm given to him by his father-in-law. The mother of Deliverance Terry (wife of Israel) is said to have been a sister of Israel.⁴ There is a tradition in the family that Deliverance was born in an Indian wigwam during the progress of a fierce battle between the whites and Indians. An Indian woman cared for her and her mother, and protected them from the rage of the redskins. "Delivered" her in fact from the awful peril in which she stood, and hence the name conferred upon her. Israel finally removed to Michigan with several of his children and died there at the advanced age of about eighty years.

David in all probability removed with his father and elder brother to Pennsylvania, before the breaking out of the Revolutionary War, as his name appears with theirs in various Tax Lists, as a "single man."† He, too, served in the Revolution as a private soldier.* He is referred to in Pennsylvania official records as "a Pennsylvania pensioner residing in New York;"† "from which it also appears that he died 1st of March, 1833, aged 71 years."‡ Physically David is said to have been a small man, like his father, but of vigorous constitution and possessed of great physical strength.

† Statement Mrs. Chas. B. Kincaid.

‡ State of New Jersey, Office of Adjutant General, Trenton, April 13, 1901. It is certified, that the records of this office show that Israel Parshall served as a Private, Minute Man, in the Gloucester County New Jersey Militia, during the Revolutionary War, Alexander C. Oliphant, Adjutant General. [Seal]

York City, at the disbanding of Washington's Army. No records show the regiment in which he served or length of service. Nothing, in fact, beyond the mere mention of his name. It is probable, however, that he served in the latter part of the War.

Receiving a common school education and learning the shoemakers' trade, he started in business for himself in New York City. Meeting with reverses in his business, he went to Charleston, S. C., hoping to improve his affairs. Here he opened a shop and store and was successful from the start. His wife and sons were preparing to follow him thither, when he died suddenly of a fever. His letters to his wife are filled with expressions of affection, for mother, wife and children. He was a man of irreproachable character, of high ideals, and noble purposes. He enlisted in a N. Y. Regt. in the War of 1812, but was not called into actual service.
