Israel Parshall removed to Michigan, from Chemung, about 1836. Here, in Oceola Township, Livingston County, he cleared one of the finest farms in the State. From Oceola he removed to Parshallville, about 200 miles distant and opened a grist mill and store. In 1855 he finally settled in Chesaning Township, Saginaw County, Michigan, where he built and operated another

Asa Parshall is a successful farmer at Chemung, N. Y., where he lives, upon the farm which his grandfather, Israel Parshall, purchased more than a century ago. Of a genial and kindly nature, "Uncle Asa" is beloved by all who know him. Well-to-do in this world's goods, his heart and purse are ever open to the wants of his less fortunate fellows. A firm and steadfast friend of this work, he has aided the author on several occasions when aid was necessary. The family owe "Uncle Asa" a debt

George H. Parshall received a common school education, after which he was put to learn the trade of a shoemaker. After finishing his apprenticeship he opened a shop and store of his own. He subsequently removed to Jamaica, L. I., and followed the business until his death as a successful merchant. The traits of honesty and integrity which had characterized his father were inherited by the son, and won for him the respect and esteem of the community in which he lived.

He received a common school education and learned the trade of a japanner of wood and metal. Starting in business for himself after completing his apprenticeship he conducted it so successfully that at 40 years of age he was able to retire with a handsome fortune. Thenceforth he devoted himself to the buying and selling of real estate, at Morrissania, N. Y., until his death. Intelligent, earnest and successful, when in active business life he was one of the most prominent men in Westchester County.

Rev. Revilo F. Parshall was the youngest of a family of eleven children, and the ministry was his chosen profession from early youth. He received a common school education and at nineteen years of age entered the Theological Department of Madison

University. Finishing the theological course in two years, he was ordained at Westford, Otsego Co., N. Y., shortly after attaining his majority. His first charge was the Westford Baptist church, where he remained three years. The next seven years were spent as pastor of the Sloansville (N. Y.) Baptist church, and the succeeding five years in the Fort Edward (N. Y.) church. Going thence to Wisconsin, he founded the Afton Baptist church and subsequently held charges in West Salem, Sparta, Tomah and New Lisbon, in Wisconsin, and in Carrollton, Ill. Receiving a call to the Oakland (Cal.) Baptist church, he went thither and subsequently filled pulpits at Sacramento, Healdsburg and Valejo, in that State. In 1887, he narrowly escaped death in an accident on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, one of his limbs being so badly crushed that amputation became necessary. This terminated his active ministerial career and thenceforth until his death he made his home in Chicago. His career was a remarkable one. He combined shrewd business tact with earnest enthusiasm in the cause of religion. More than 6,000 persons are said to owe their conversion to his efforts. More than two score ministers owed their first start in the profession to his helpful offices. As an exhorter he was earnest and forceful, imparting some of his own enthusiasm to all who heard him. John A. Parshall was a printer for more than sixty years, and a man loved and respected by all who knew him. In the course of his long life, he served the people of Delhi as President of the Village, Trustee, Clerk of the Board of Trustees, Fire Commissioner and in fact in every office within the gift of his fellow townsmen. It is said that he occupied the same case, in the same office, at the same window for more than fifty years, and that he "set" birth, death and marriage notices for three generations of his neighbors. ‡ Pers. statement.

Mr. Parshall

William Parshall left home when a boy of fourteen to seek his fortune. Going to Rochester, N. Y., he spent the years 1838 and 1839, working in a dry goods store. At the end of that time he returned to Cooperstown, where he was employed in a hardware store. In 1848, he came to Syracuse, and on April 5th of that year, entered the employ of Norton, Hall & Co., the largest hardware dealers in that part of the State. Two years later, in 1850, he bought out the interest of Mr. Hall, and the firm subsequently became Norton, Bradley & Co., Bradley, Parshall & Co., and Parshall & Searl. In all these firms Mr. Parshall was the practical hardware man of the concern and was noted as a shrewd and careful buyer and conservative business man. In 1890, having accumulated a fortune, he retired from business. Close and economical in business matters, in his family he was liberal to a fault, and no wish of his children was ever too extravagant for him to gratify. Though not a member of the church, he was always interested in its welfare and contributed liberally to religious work. He was a member of the Board of Trustees of the Park Central Presbyterian church of Syracuse for more than forty years, and was Chairman of the Board for nearly that length of time. A business man of the "old school," his word was always better than another man's bond. Honest and upright himself, he ever sought to instill sentiments of honor and honesty into his children, his servants and his clerks. Few men have left behind them such a reputation for integrity as he. Honored and respected in the community where he lived, loved by his family, as few fathers are, he met death with the serene fortitude with which he had met every crisis of his life. Received a common school education. Left home when sixteen years of age and learned the trade of a wagonmaker, which he followed for ten years. When twenty-six years of age he bought a farm and followed the calling of a farmer until 1895. He was one of the largest hop growers in the State, as high as 20,000 pounds having been raised by him in a single year. In 1898, was elected Supervisor of the Town of Middlefield, and re-elected for several terms. Was president of the Otsego County Agricultural Society in 1899. (See portrait.)

^a. Karl Alfred Parshall was a graduate of the Cooperstown High School and of the Albany Medical College and a licensed practitioner. He was formerly a member of the staff of the Saratoga (N. Y.) hospital, and is now in general practice in New York City.

Gilbert removed to Danby with his parents when a mere child. He still owns and cultivates the farm which his father cleared at that time. "He is a lively little man, full of stories." He is an advanced farmer, believing fully in the truth of the old maxim, that "What is worth doing at all is worth doing well." His farm is said to present the best appearance of any in his township. Possessing the racial characteristics of diminutive stature, in his youth he was of Herculean strength. Small, wiry, strong, of rugged constitution, he might well stand as a type of our family.

A farmer like his father and elder brother, Elephas is also a mason and follows both occupations. He built with his own hands the house in which he resides and many others in the neighborhood. The stone work of many of the bridges in his township is his handiwork. A lover of music, he is an adept at the violin. Somewhat reserved, to those who have succeeded in winning his confidence he is guide, mentor and friend. Open-handed and charitable, he is always ready to extend a helping hand to the unfortunate.

J. W. Churchill

DeWitt Parshall received his education at the Canandaigua Academy, where he was for several terms a classmate and roommate of Stephen A. Douglass. Choosing the law as a profession, he entered the office of the late Gen. William H. Adams, at Lyons, where he industriously prosecuted his studies and was admitted to the bar in 1838, having, since leaving his father's house, entirely supported himself by his own exertion—teaching, surveying, copying law papers in the County Clerk's Office, etc. He opened his first law office at Lyons, but in 1839, having formed a co-partnership with the late Judge Theron R. Strong, he moved to Palmyra, but feeling that there was a better field for his activities at the County seat, the partnership was dissolved at his own request and he returned to Lyons, where he continued to reside for the remainder of his life. In addition to his law practice he became extensively engaged in real estate transactions and continued until his death the most extensive dealer in and owner of real estate in the county. The Village of Lyons owes much of its prosperity to his enterprise and public spirit. In 1852, he established the Palmyra Bank, of Lyons, the name of which was changed to the Lyons Bank two years later and again in 1865, it was converted into the Lyons National Bank, under which name it has ever since enjoyed an unexampled prosperity. He served as Supervisor of his town several terms, and later was President of the Village of Lyons. In 1868, he was elected to the Legislature of New York State, where he served one term. A man of sterling worth, upright and honorable in every walk of life, devoted to his family and friends, he won the esteem of all who knew him. (See portrait.)

Caleb Parshall resided on the farm formerly belonging to his father for many years. On the construction of the Walkill Valley Railroad, he was one of the Commissioners appointed by the Supreme Court to appraise the damages for lands taken by that corporation for railroad purposes. In Sept., 1869, he removed to Port Jervis, N. Y., and engaged in the construction of the Port Jervis, Monticello and New York Railroad, after the completion of which he retired from active life, but continued to make his home in Port Jervis until his death.
